Texas A&M's former students long envisioned a final resting place to honor the extraordinary bonds formed by Aggies. That's why the City of College Station collaborated with the university to build the Aggie Field of Honor and Memorial Cemetery.

To purchase a plot, you only need to be an Aggie in heart and spirit. Anyone who loves Texas A&M, its traditions, and our community is welcome.

Howdy Ags!

This was a bittersweet issue to put together as we looked back at the last two months of Aggie sports. Inside this issue, we have our football rewind that recaps our last six football games. It was great looking back at all of the pictures I shot of the LSU game. What an exciting night it was, as a packed Kyle Field saw Marcel Reed come in and light the place on fire in a comeback win that will be remembered for decades to come.

It was also a tough time looking back at the game against tu. As an Aggie who has experienced wins and losses against the Sips for the last 40 years, I can tell you there is nothing better than beating those guys and nothing worse than coming up short on the scoreboard. We want to thank our women's volleyball team for cruising into Austin and beating the back-to-back defending national champs on their home floor. We look forward to Buzz and the boys giving us another victory over the Horns on January 4th, 2025.

Speaking of Buzz, our basketball team is 10-2 through the first twelve games and has really bulked up their resume, including a big win over Texas Tech. As an Aggie who was raised in Lubbock, this was my favorite win of the season (Don't tell my beautiful Red Raider wife).

In this issue, we also showcase Elko's second early signing class. This is an elite class that coach and his staff got to build over a full year. 23 of the signees will be here in January.

We want to congratulate our volleyball team on a fantastic run in the NCAA Tournament! Coach Jamie Morrison has made Texas A&M a volleyball school. He just signed the No. 5 class in the nation!

Also in this issue, we got to interview Alex Zettler. I'm excited to share the story of the six-time walk-on who is now on Coach Elko's staff!

Please enjoy this issue and thanks to all of our corporate partners that make it possible!

THANKS SO MUCH

After a thrilling come-from-behind victory of the LSU Tigers, Coach Mike Elko moved toward the student section and showed his appreciation. Trailing 17-7 in the third quarter and unable to get much done with the offense, Elko made the tough decision to insert backup quarterback Marcel Reed into the game. The redshirt freshman responded by leading the Aggies to a 38-23 victory in front of 108,852 fans. Photo by Rob Havens '88

I GET BY WITH A LITTLE HELP FROM MY FRIENDS

Trailing 17-14 against the LSU Tigers and facing a third and five on the eight-yard line, Marcel Reed dropped back to pass, then tucked the ball and ran up the middle until he was stone-walled at the one-yard line. Armani Daniels, Trey Zuhn III, and Ar'maj Reed-Adams pushed from behind, forcing Reed over the goal line for the go-ahead score. Photo by Rob Havens '88

SHE'S GOT THE MIDAS TOUCH

Junior transfer and outside hitter Emily Hellmuth dinks the ball over the outstretched hands of Georgia blockers in a 3-1 victory over the Bulldogs. Hellmuth had ten kills during the match to go along with 7 blocks. The talented junior from Dallas Texas played her first two years at Pepperdine before returning to her home state. ## MEN'S BASKETBALL

Buzz and the gang have built quite the resume as they've battled through a tough fall schedule. The Ags are #12 in the polls and have put together an 10-2 record with big wins over #21 Ohio State, #21 Creighton (who upset #1 Kansas) and Texas Tech. The Aggies open SEC play on January 4, 2025 vs tu at Reed Arena.

SWIMMING & DIVING

The Aggies concluded the fall portion of their season with a couple of first-place team finishes in the Art Adamson Invitational held here in Aggieland. Both squads collected numerous NCAA B-cut times and lowered multiple personal bests in their commanding wins.

VOLLEYBALL

In only his second year with the program, Head Coach Jamie Morrison led his team to a 19-7 regular season record, going 10-6 in the SEC. The highlight of the regular season was a huge upset win over the back-to-back defending national champ longhorns on their home court. The Aggies earned a 6-seed in the NCAA tournament and won two matches in Tempe, AZ to advance to the Sweet 16.

SOCCER

The team wrapped up their 2024 season with an 8-9-2 record, going 3-5-2 in the SEC. The Aggies celebrated seven players on senior night and wrapped up their last match in the first round of the SEC Tournament. The program also said goodbye and thank you to Assistant Coach Phil Stephenson who announced his retirement after 26 years at A&M.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

After twelve games the Aggies sit at 7-5 with a 6-2 home court record. Highlighting the early schedule is a 57-45 come-from-behind victory over Syracuse. The Aggies kick off conference play at Reed Arena on Jan. 2, 2025 against #19 Tennessee.

FROM SIX-YEAR WALK-ON TO ASSISTANT COACH

ALEX ZETTLER

SHOWS HARD WORK PAYS OFF

BY ROB HAVENS '88

In college athletics, a “walk-on” refers to an athlete who joins a team without receiving an athletic scholarship. Although they may not have the accolades that come with being a 5-star recruit, they add depth to the roster and provide competition on the scout team as they develop their skills with the hope of playing on the big stage. They work just as hard, if not harder, than scholarship athletes, without receiving money for tuition, books, or housing.

As a dad of a former football walk-on at A&M, I have great respect for all they go through and the sacrifices they make. When I found out that Alex Zettler had been hired as a defensive assistant for Texas A&M I was anxious to share his story. Alex was a six-year walk-on for the Aggies and he finished his playing days last fall. He is the first in program history to be a six-year walk-on.

Alex was born in Dallas, TX, and moved with his family from Waxahachie, TX to Utah when he was young. He played every sport as he grew up and was a quarterback in high school, earning 2018 Utah Best of State High School Athlete of the Year. He had a previous relationship with Noel Mazzone and came for a visit to A&M in 2017 during Kevin Sumlin’s last season. After Jimbo’s departure he was offered a preferred walk-on position and committed on the spot.

After arriving in Aggieland Zettler explained that he knew his job was. “To be a scout team guy, giving the best looks and developing myself and just trying to learn as much of the defense as I could and so I just kind of stuck to that plan,” Zettler said. He worked hard for three years without seeing the field on game day. He knew that playing time had to be earned and he was learning as much as he could so he would be ready when his number was called. “It was definitely a grind, but it was a good time. I felt like I was accomplishing what I was trying to do in those first three years because I won scout team player of the year one of those years. I was learning under Coach Elko for those three years and the jump from high school football to Coach Elko is absolutely insane. So learning that was absolutely huge for me,” Zettler said.

Going into his fourth year Zettler felt like his body was in a good spot to be used. After looking around the talent in the safety room he felt like his best chance to earn playing time would be in special teams. Elko would tell him how to get on special teams and would help him out with that, so he started spending more time in special teams meetings and getting more reps with the squad. In the spring he got the opportunity to run with the ones and twos on special teams. When he started making plays on teams, Coach Elko moved him to the twos on safety. All of the knowledge he had learned in his first three years kicked in, and although he might not have the most talent, he had earned Elko’s trust to play in a game and he started to get some playing time. Zettler told us that although he was nervous at first he was excited and making plays on the field are experiences that he will never forget. He still remembers them like they happened yesterday.

Zettler wasn’t surprised when Elko got the chance to be a head coach, and he knew from watching him in action that he would be successful. It was under Elko’s tutelage that Alex knew one day he wanted to be a coach as well. So when Coach Elko returned, Zettler reached out to him and they met. When Zettler explained that he wanted to coach, Elko said, “We’ll figure it out!” Just a couple of weeks later Elko called back with an opportunity. He explained to him that it didn’t come with a big-name title like a defensive analyst or grad assistant, but he could learn how the coaching world operates. “The second I knew I could be a coach at A&M under Coach Elko, those were three checked boxes for me and I knew I had to take the job,” Zettler said.

His only regret is not having a seventh year as a player to be coached by this staff and play with these players. Alex is learning a lot and hopes to remain a part of the staff at Texas A&M for as long as he can. ■

GAME 7

TEXAS A&M 34 - MISSISSIPPI STATE 24

The Aggies continued their winning ways on a road trip to Starkville to take on the Bulldogs. Conner Weigman completed 15 of 25 passes with a touchdown to lead the Aggies to their fourth straight SEC win. After giving up the first touchdown of the day, the Aggies drove the length of the field and capped off an impressive 74-yard drive with a perfect pass from Weigman to Noah Thomas to tie the score at seven. Le'Veon Moss would give the Aggies their first lead of the game with a powerful nine-yard touchdown run, putting the Ags up 14-7. The Dogs would add a field goal before Amari Daniels increased the lead to 21-10 on a six-yard touchdown run of his own. The Dogs would not go away, adding another score before half to make it 21-17. A Randy Bond field goal and Moss's second touchdown of the day gave the Aggies the lead for good. State would get one more touchdown, but with six minutes to play Bond iced the game with a 44-yard field goal. On the defensive side, Taurean York had a career-high 12 tackles and Scooby Williams had a game-changing interception - the first of his career.

LSU

TEXAS A&M 38 - LSU 23

The Aggies took the field donning alternate black jerseys, pants and helmets with a new Aggie logo to the delight of a sold-out crowd of over 108,000 fans. The “Black Out Game” was a tale of two halves. The Aggies struggled in the first, trailing 17-7 with only a Le’Veon Moss touchdown to show on the scoreboard. But the second half was all Aggies, thanks to two interceptions by BJ Mayes and a coming-out party for Marcel Reed. With 8:17 left in the third, Mayes intercepted a pass and set up the Aggies on the Tiger’s eight-yard line. Reed entered the game and raced around the corner and into the endzone to give the Aggies new life. On the next Aggie possession, Reed would once again find paydirt with a little help from his teammates as they pushed him into the endzone. After a second Mayes interception, Reed scored his third touchdown as he pulled the ball and ran untouched up the middle to put the Aggies up 28-17. Reed found Noah Thomas down the middle for a 54-yard pass completion and Moss wrapped up the scoring, bullying his way into the endzone for his second touchdown. Taurean York would put the game on ice with an interception at 6:31 left in the contest.

GAME 9

SOUTH CAROLINA 44 - TEXAS A&M 20

The Aggies entered game 9 alone at the top of the SEC, but a night game in Columbia against a motivated team with a stellar running back resulted in the first conference loss of the season. Marcel Reed got his first start, and the Gamecocks game-planned to make someone else beat them by setting up their defense to keep him from running loose down the field. South Carolina would jump out to a 14-0 lead and gain all the momentum. A 52 and 55-yard field goal by Randy Bond kept the Aggies close, and an Amari Daniels 56-yard touchdown and Jabre Barber 2-yard touchdown reception gave the Aggies a 20-17 lead. The Cocks would tie the game just before the half with a 44-yard field goal. South Carolina would dominate the second half aided by a pair of Aggie turnovers. They scored three touchdowns and a field goal to win the game, 44-20. Sanders, Sellers and Adaway III would run for a combined 286 yards and three touchdowns on the Aggies. Reed completed 18 of 28 passes in his first start for 206 yards and a touchdown. Le'Veon Moss suffered a season-ending injury during the game.

TEXAS A&M 38 - NEW MEXICO STATE 3

The Aggies versus Aggies game was just what the doctor ordered as our team bounced back with a dominating performance that allowed most of the team to play on the field. In his second start, Marcel Reed connected on 20 of 31 passes for 268 yards, two touchdown passes and one rushing score. Our Swedish secret weapon Theo Melin Ohrstrom had a career night, with five catches for 111 yards. With Moss sidelined with an injury, Amari Daniels and EJ Smith ran for 84 and 60 yards respectively. Texas A&M made quick work out of New Mexico State, scoring 17 points in the first stanza thanks to a 16-yard touchdown catch by Noah Thomas and a 71-yard scamper by Daniels that gave the Ags a 14-0 lead. Bond added a 37-yard field goal before Moose Muhammad III got in on the action with a six-yard touchdown catch from Reed. Marcel added a fourth-quarter score when he called his own number and raced into the endzone from five yards out. Conner Weigman, who announced at the end of the regular season that he would be transferring, saw his final action as an Aggie, completing two passes and one interception. True freshman Miles O'Neill also competed in the game completing five of six passes for 51 yards and his first TD pass to Ashton Bethel-Roman.

AUBURN 43 - TEXAS A&M 41

The Aggies entered game 11 knowing that two more wins would put them in the SEC Championship game for the first time. The Tigers were playing spoiler and a capacity crowd cheered them on as they jumped out to a 21-point lead. The Aggies battled back and Noah Thomas tied the score at 21 with a catch and run that went for 73 yards in the third quarter. The teams battled back and forth until Daniels put the Aggies on top 31-28 with an eight-yard touchdown with four minutes to play. The Aggies were in control and needed just one more first down to run out the clock, but the Tigers forced a punt and then tied the game with a field goal to force overtime. The Aggies went on top in the first overtime as Jahdae Walker took a pass from Reed and fought his way into the endzone. The Tigers answered with a touchdown of their own forcing a second OT. The teams traded field goals in the second OT as Bond hit a big 42-yarder. Neither team scored in the third period, setting up the final stanza. The Tigers scored on their try, forcing the Aggies to score again to force another overtime. On the final play of the game, Bussey took the snap and ran to his left. He tossed the ball to Reed who reversed field and spotted Daniels in the endzone. He released the pass but the ball fell out of his hands, giving the Tigers the win, 43-41.

TEXAS 17 - TEXAS A&M 7

The Aggies went into the most anticipated game of the season still holding their championship hopes in their own hands. Playing in front of the third-largest crowd in Kyle Field history, the Aggies took the field with great expectations. Marcel Reed led the team down the field in their first possession completing big passes to Bussey and Walker and guiding the team to the Loghorn ten-yard line. Facing fourth and one the Aggies were stopped and the Horns took over. The defense would force a three-and-out and give the Aggies great field position at the 50. On the next possession, Reed was intercepted and Texas took over at the seven-yard line. The Horns would drive to the Aggie 15 where Arch Manning came in and scored their first touchdown. The Horns would add ten more points and take a 17-0 lead at the half. In the second half, the teams would force punts on their first possessions before Texas put together a 78-yard drive to the Aggie seven-yard line. On third and four, Quinn Ewers attempted a pass that was batted up by DJ Hicks into the hands of Will Lee III, who raced 93 yards for an Aggie touchdown. In the fourth quarter, down by two scores, the Aggies drove all the way to the Horns one-yard line. On fourth and one Amari Daniels was tackled in the backfield, ending the Aggies last chance to get the win.
